To be or not to be?

That is the question. It has been a while since I last asked myself whether it's better to die or to live in pain. Now that I'm dead, it seems like a perfect time to think about it again. Should have I killed myself or did I do the right thing? This question never gets old.

Has William Shakespeare really existed?

Last night I was thinking about myself and how weird my life was. The fact that I was invented by some man named William really bothers me so I decided to do some research about his life. I couldn't find any information about what he has done from 1584 to 1592 and I immediately felt that something was wrong. I came to the conclusion that he might not have existed at all. And this lead me to the following question: have I existed?

William Shakespeare. I have to admit that he was quite stylish.

Letter from a reader

Hi. My name is Laertes. I am certainly not a fan of this gazette. I think it sucks. I am still mad at you Hamlet and I want to fight again. You know where to find me.

Bye

My response

Hi Laertes. It has been a long time since I last saw you and I must say that I have been doing pretty good without you. Therefore, I will certainly not be there. Last time was enough for me, so please, just move on. Yours sincerely

Which kind of leader are you?

Yesterday, after my daily meditation, it occurred to me that some people might find my gazette -I'm trying to remember the adjective Horatio used, ah yes- depressing. Therefore I decided to try something new: this is a quiz that will help you find out which kind of leader you would be. Enjoy.

1)Your father's ghost asks you to avenge him. What do you do?

- A. You avenge him
- B. You seek for evidence that your uncle is the real murderer before killing an innocent person, like anyone would do.

2)The woman you love confesses her love for you:

- A. You marry her
- B. You protect her from your dangerous life by avoiding her and pretending you hate her, like any reasonable person would do.

The murder of Gonzago review

I have decided to do a review of one of my favourite plays of all time : the murder of Gonzago. I have seen it several times and now I think I might be ready to express my opinion about it. I have been thinking for a long time and I came to the conclusion that it deserves five gold stars. It is a really interesting play, full of suspense and with an unexpected ending, perfect for making your uncle feel guilty for killing your father. I recommend it.

Weekly interview : Romeo and Juliet

Last week I interviewed Romeo and Juliet.

H: Romeo, if you had waited two more minutes you wouldn't have killed yourself. It was stupid for you to make that decision that quickly.

R: Ehm.. I don't really think that's how interviews work.
