Romeo is a quite popular boy, he has a lot of followers and many new requests because he's a Montague and his family is one of the most important and influent in Verona: everyone knows him.

He has a lot of friends and he loves hanging out with them, so his posts and stories, at the beginning, were about things like this; but when he met Juliet and fell in love with her, he changed.

A lot of his old posts were deleted: now, there are just few photos from the period before Juliet. His Instagram profile shows well all his love for Juliet: there are many photos of her loved one, of moments with her and a lot of hearts. Under his posts he usually adds some romantic quotes: they sound like cliché but he certainly feels what he writes.

He also removed every reference to his family, because he thought he was good for his relationship.

Juliet likes using social media; she is known in Verona and she has a lot of followers, because she's a Capulet: she's part of one of the most important families in the city, she's very popular and many people are interested in her.

She usually shares parts of her everyday life: she's a practical and concrete person and that can be seen even in her Instagram profile. She doesn't spend time decorating her profile or adding long deep sentences in her posts, she shows what she wants other people to see: that's enough for her.

This concreteness doesn't stop her from showing her love for Romeo: a lot of posts are dedicated to him and she openly talks about her loved one.

Hamlet

prince of Denmark and university student

To die, to sleep - to sleep, perchance to dream

Hamlet uses his Instagram profile like a sort of personal diary, where he annotates his feelings, his thoughts.

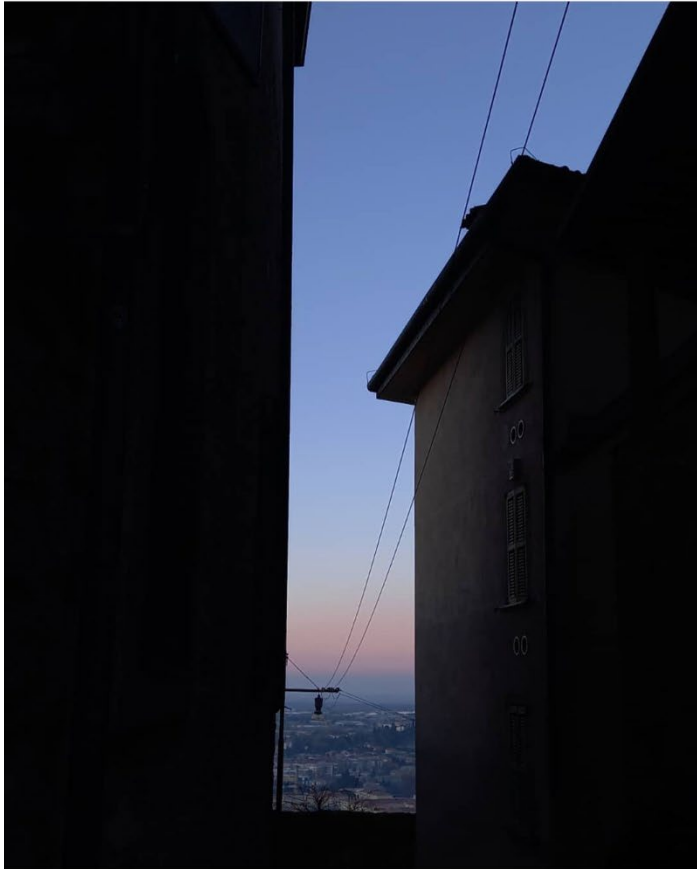

Hamlet could have a lot of followers (he is the prince of Denmark! People all around the world want to follow him on instagram), but he loves his privacy, so he doesn't accept all his new requests.

His followers are only interesting people, that inspires him. He interacts a lot with them, sharing with them his doubts and his questions: he thinks that social media can be a great way to broaden his horizons, knowing other people's opinions.

Sometimes, he posts some photos and adds to them a short description, for example a sentence invented by him, where he briefly describes what he felt taking that photo. These photos are dark, someone could think sad, even when there is light, it is always surrounded by darkness.

Prospero

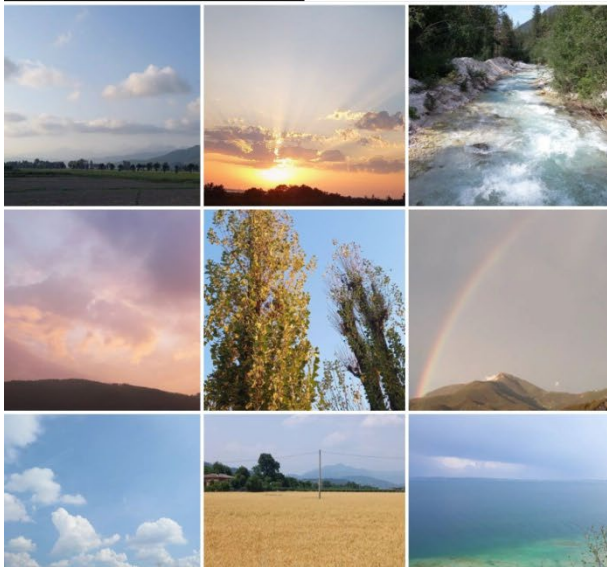

Duke of Milan, exiled by my brother, Antonio.

Father of Miranda

Owner of the Island

A real magician

Modifica profilo

Prospero is a quite old man, he doesn't use Instagram a lot because he finds it difficult to use and he's not so interested in it.

However, he has some followers: they are mainly people from his country, Milan, who still support him after the exile.

He usually takes photos of his beautiful island and shares them on Instagram. These photos show an ideal world: amazing sunsets, stunning sunrises, breathtaking landscapes, with bright colours and a general idyllic atmosphere.

It is everything so perfect that often people ask themselves whether it's real or not; maybe Prospero is just trying to hide all the negative things...
